

Cancer care is often complex. Each of our nurses assist patients through the course of discovery, treatment and rehabilitation. They are an important bridge between the doctor, adjunct services, and their patient.

Debbie Casto, RN is our Oncology Nurse Navigator and coordinates patient care in collaboration with our team for patients with cancer. She is responsible for ensuring all of our cancer patients receive quality and comprehensive care & treatment. Our Breast Health Nurse, Radeana Dotson, manages care for our breast cancer patients, with a comprehensive, multi-disciplinary approach, supporting patients through each phase of breast cancer and breast health concerns.

We recognize that timing is everything, and at the Thomas Breast Care Center, from the moment your patient makes contact with us, they will have the option to be seen by a surgeon within 24 to 48 hours.

Our unique care process provides: Monthly conferences with physician specialists discussing cases ensuring the best outcomes; medical liaison services ensuring clear communication and a better understanding of medical recommendations; ongoing support, assistance and referral for financial, social, or community-based resources if needed; and support from the family members of the patient.

Knowledge, peace-of-mind and comfort are goals for Thomas Health Oncology team leaders, Debbie Casto, RN-Oncology Nurse Navigator and Radeana Dotson, RN-Breast Health Nurse
